DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 2, 5-8, 12, 14, 16, 17, 19-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pratt et al., US Patent 710,073. A furniture glide for mounting on the terminal end of a furniture leg having an outer surface, comprising a base having a generally arcuate lower surface d for engaging a supporting surface; and a sleeve a' extending from the base along an axis and having an inner surface defining a cavity for receiving the furniture leg and terminating at an upper edges, a plurality of resilient projections and/or flexible depressions (inside cavity, as best seen in figure 1) extending radially inward from the upper edge of the sleeve for engaging the outer surface of the furniture leg and retaining the furniture leg in the cavity, the plurality of resilient projections spacing the furniture leg from the inner surface of the sleeve (recess regions between the projections) so as to inherently allow the furniture leg to be supported within the cavity at least a minimal acute angle to the axis. Backing layer of felt pad is provided at element c.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 2, 5-8, 12, 14, 16, 17, and 19-23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. After careful consideration, it has been determined that Pratt et al. anticipates all the claims.

Applicant argues that Pratt does not allow for an acute angle to the axis as claimed. It is the position of the examiner that such a modification is inherent to the design of Pratt, since the resilient flexible material of the projections/depressions allows for spacing of an inserted member, and such a member could pivot within the cavity at least a minimal amount due to the flexibility of the projection/depressions.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL.

See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
